THE BRIDE'S FAREWELL.

Why do I weep! to leave the vine
Whose clusters o'er me bend,
The myrtle:—yet, O call it mine!
The flowers I love to tend;
A thousand thoughts of all things dear,
Like shadows o'er me sweep,
I leave my sunny childhood here,—
Oh, therefore, let me weep!

I leave thee, Sister!—we have played
Through many a joyous hour,
When the silvery green of the olive shade
Hung dim o'er fount and bower!
Yes, thou and I, by stream and shore,
In song, in prayer, in sleep,
Have been as we may be no more,
Sweet sister, let me weep!

I leave thee, Father!—Eve's bright moon
Must now light other feet,
With the gathering grapes and lyre in tune
Thy homeward steps to greet!
Thou in whose voice to bless thy child
Lay tones of love so deep;
Whose eyes o'er all my youth have smil'd,
I leave thee—let me weep!

Mother, I leave thee!—on thy breast
Pouring out joy and wo,
I've found that holy place of rest,
Still changeless, yet I go!
Lips that lull'd me with your strain,
Eyes that have watch'd my sleep!
Will earth give love like yours again?
Kind Mother! let me weep!

CHARM OF A RATTLESNAKE.

An extract from "Yemassee," a Romance of South Carolina, by the author of Guy Rivers, &c.

"He does not come—he does not come," she murmured, as she stood contemplating the thick copse spreading before her, and forming the barrier which terminated the beautiful range of oaks which constitated the grove. How beautiful was the green and garniture of that little copse of wood. The leaves were thick, and the grass around lay folded over and over in bunches, with here and there a wild flower gleaming from its green and making of it a beautiful carpet of the richest and most various texture. A small tree rose from the centre of a clump around which a wild grape gadded luxuriantly; and with an incoherent sense of what she saw, she lingered before the little cluster, seeming to survey that which she had no thought for at the moment. Things grew indistinct to her wandering eye; the thought was turned inward; and the musing spirit denying the governing sense to the external spirits and conductors, they failed duly to appreciate the forms that floated, and glided before them. In this way, the leaf detached made no impression upon the sight that was bent upon it; she saw not the bird, though it whirled, untroubled by a fear, in wanton circles around her head; and the black snake, with the rapidity of an arrow, darted over her path without arousing a single terror in the form that otherwise would have shivered but at its appearance. And yet, though thus indistinct were all things around her to the musing mind of the maiden, her eye was singularly impressed with one object, peering out at intervals from the little bush beneath it. She saw, or thought she saw, at moments, through the bright green of the leaves, a star like glance, a small bright ray, subtle, sharp, beautiful; an eye of the leaf itself, darting the most searching looks into her own. Now the leaves shook and the vines waved elastically and in beautiful forms before her, but the star like eye was there, bright and gorgeous, and still glancing up to her own. How beautiful, how strange, did it appear to the maiden. She watched it still with a dreaming sense, but with a spirit strangely attracted by its beauty—with a feeling in which awe and admiration were equally commingled. She could have bent forward to pluck the gem like thing from the bosom of the leaf in which it seemed to grow, and from which it gleamed so brilliantly; but once, as she approached, she heard a shrill scream from the tree above her; such a scream as the mock bird makes, when, angrily, it raises its dusky crest, and flaps its wings furiously against its slender sides. Such a scream seemed like a warning, and though yet unawakened to full consciousness, it repelled her approach.

More than once in her survey of this strange object had she heard that shrill note, and still had it carried to her ear the same note of warning, and to her mind the same vague consciousness of an evil presence. But the star-like eye was yet upon her own—a small, bright eye, quick like that of a bird, now steady in its place and observant seemingly only of hers, now darting forward with all the clustering leaves about it, and shooting up towards her, as if wooing her to seize. At another moment, rivetted to the vine which lay around it, it would whirl round and round, dazzlingly bright and beautiful, even as a torch waving hurriedly by night in the hands of some playful boy—but, in all this time, the glance was never taken from her own—there it grew, fixed; a very principle of light; and such a light a subtle, burning, piercing, fascinating light, such as gathers in vapor above the old grave, and binds us as we look—shooting, darting directly into her own, dazzling her gaze, defeating its sense of discrimination, and confusing strangely that of perception.

She felt dizzy, for as she looked, a cloud of colors, bright, gay, various colors, floated and hung like so much drapery around the single object that had so secured her attention and spell-bound her feet. Her limbs felt momently more and more insecure; her blood grew cold, and she seemed to feel gradual freeze of vein by vein, throughout her person. At that moment a rustling was heard in the branches of the tree beside her, and the bird, which had repeatedly uttered a single cry, as it were of warning, above her, flew away from his station with a scream more piercing than ever. This moment had the effect, for which it seemed really intended, of bringing back to her a portion of the consciousness she seemed so totally to have been deprived of before. She strove to move from before the beautiful but terrible presence, but for a while she strove in vain. The rich star-like glance still riveted her own, and the subtle fascination still kept her bound. The mental energies, however, with the moment of their greatest trial, now gathered suddenly to her aid, and with a desperate effort, but with a feeling still of most annoying uncertainty and dread, she succeeded partially in the attempt, and leaned backward against the neighboring tree, feeble, tottering, and depending upon it for that support which her own limbs almost entirely denied her. With her movement, however, came the full developement of the powerful spell and dreadful mystery before her. As her feet receded, though but for a single pace, to the tree against which she now rested the audible articulated ring, like that of a watch when wound up with the verge broken, announced the nature of that splendid, yet dangerous presence, in the form of the monstrous rattlesnake, now but a few feet from her, lying coiled at the bottom of a beautiful shrub, with which, to her dreaming eye, many of its own glorious hues had been associated.

She was conscious enough to discriminate and to perceive, but terror had denied her the strength necessary to fly from her dreadful enemy. There still the eye glared beautifully bright and piercing upon her own; and, seemingly in a spirit of sport he slowly unwound himself from his coil, then immediately, the next moment, again gathered himself into its muscular masses; the rattle still slightly ringing at intervals, and giving forth the paralyzing sound, which once heard, is remembered forever. The reptile all this while appeared to be conscious of, and to sport with, while seeking to excite her terrors. Now, with its flat head, distended mouth, and curving neck, would it dart forward its long form towards her, its fatal teeth unfolding on either side of its jaws, seeming to threaten her with instantaneous death, while its powerful eye shot forth glances of that fatal power of fascination, malignantly bright, which, by paralyzing with a novel form of terror and of beauty, may readily account for the spell it possesses of binding the feet of the timid, and denying to fear even the privilege of flight. Then the next moment, recovering quickly, it would resume its folds, and with arching neck, which now glittered like a car of brazed copper, and fixed eye, continue calmly as it were to contemplate the victim of its secreted venom, the pendulous rattle still ringing the death note as if to prepare the conscious mind for the fate which is at hand.—Its various folds were now complete—the coil forming a series of knots; the muscles now and then, rising rigidly into a hill, now corded down by the pressure of another of its fold into a valley. These suddenly unclasping, in the general effort to strike its enemy, give it that degree of impetus which enables it to make its stroke as fatal, at the full extent of its own length, as when, suddenly invaded, its head is simply elevated and the blow given.

The glance of Bess Matthews at this moment upon her enemy, assured her that the sport of the deadly reptile was about to cease. She could not now mistake the fearful expression of its eye. She strove to scream but her voice died away in her throat. Her lips were sealed; she sought to fly, but her limbs were palsied; she had nothing left of life but its consciousness, and in despair of escape, forced from her by the accumulated agony, she sunk down upon the grass before her enemy; her eyes, however, still open and still looking upon those which he directed forever upon them. She saw him approach—now advancing, now receding—now swelling in every part with something of anger, while his neck was arched beautifully like that of a wild horse under the curb; until, at length, tired as it were of play, like the cat with its victim, she saw the neck growing larger and becoming completely bronzed when about to strike, the huge jaws unclosing almost directly above her, the long tabulated fang, charged with venom, protruding from the cavernous mouth—and she saw no more! Insensibility came her to aid, and she lay almost lifeless under the very folds of the monster. In that moment the copse parted, and an arrow, piercing him through and through the neck, bore his head forward to the ground, along side of the maiden, while his spiral extremities, now unfolding in his own agony, were actually, in part, resting on her person. The arrow came from the fugitive Occonnestoga; who had fortunately reached the spot, in season, on his way to the Block House. He rushed from the copse as the snake fell, and, with a stick, fearlessly approached him where he lay writhing upon the grass. Seeing him advance, the courageous reptile made an effort to regain his coil, while shaking the fearful rattle violently at every evolution he took for that purpose; but the arrow, completely passing through his neck, opposed an unyielding obstacle to the endeavor; and finding it hopeless, and seeing the new enemy about to assault him, with something of the spirit of the white man under like circumstances, he turned recklessly around, and striking his fangs, so that they were rivetted in the wound they made, into a susceptible part of his own body, he threw himself over upon his back with a single convulsion, and a moment after lay dead upon the person of the maiden.

PATENT ADHESIVE FELT, FOR COVERING SHIPS' BOTTOMS.

FAIRBANKS, LORING & CO. corner of Kilby and Milk street, respectfully give notice to Ship Owners, that they have on hand, and will be supplied from time to time with the PATENT ADHESIVE FELT, for covering Ships' bottoms. The utility of this article has been so fully tested by the Board of Commissioners of the United States Navy, that during the last year they purchased more than sixty thousand sheets, and have recently ordered fifty thousand sheets for the present year.

"This Felt affords a complete protection against the destructive effects of the worm, whilst, by its strength and flexibility, it also prevents leakage, whether arising by working of ships in stress of weather, by accident, or otherwise. It will prevent the corrosion of iron, by the effect of the copper on iron fastened ships, where the fastenings and heads of bolts are protected by a covering of it.

"There are many instances of ships in the East India and other services having the copper accidentally rubbed off, by which the worm has not only got through the wood, sheathing and tarred paper, but also through the plank, and occasioned leakage and damage, as well as laborious working at the pumps, and many other instances of leakage, occasioned by ships working in heavy gales. Against both of these, it is submitted a covering of the Patent Felt affords complete protection."

Samples of this Felt may be seen at several of the Insurance Offices, State street, at the Marine Railway, and also at our store, where testimonials of its utility may be seen, and directions for its application be had.

HISCOCK'S ELECTRIC ANODYNE.—

U. S. Revenue Cutter Hamilton, April 13th, 1835.

TO CHARLES G. GREENE, Editor of the Morning Post:

Sir—My attention having been recently directed by recommendation of a friend, to a novel and simple remedy for the ague and tooth ache (to which mariners are peculiarly exposed) advertised for sale by the Druggists of this city, by the name of Hiscock's Electric Anodyne; and public credulity having been greatly abused of late, by various specifics alleged to be effectual cures of these common but often formidable complaints; I am desirous of asking the favor of your columns in bearing public testimony to the high estimation in which I regard the article referred to, for the benefit of others. This article I have recently had occasion to use myself, under a very aggravated attack of the ague, tooth ache and ear ache; and the successful administration of it by me among the crew of the Revenue Cutter of this port, to which I am attached, leaves no doubt in my mind, that the article possesses extraordinary virtues for all those complaints. Such has been my experience in reference to the use of this article recently, that I should not think my medicine chest properly filled for a voyage, without it; and I recommend it to ship masters and heads of families as an article, in my judgment of intrinsic value for the ague and its attendant complaints the tooth ache and ear ache, and well deserving the high character attributed to it, by those who have certified publicly to its efficacy.

Very respectfully, your most ob't servant,

SAMUEL P. SCOTT.

THE BOSTON MORNING POST.

"Associated Wealth is the Dynasty of Modern States."

FRIDAY, MAY 8, 1835.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

We are indebted to Capt Taubman, of the ship St. Andrew, and to Dr Gedney, a passenger on board, for Cork papers to the evening of April 7th, containing London dates to the evening of the 4th. The St Andrew left Liverpool on the 30th of March, and Cork on the 8th of April.—Jour. Com.

These papers bring intelligence of a signal defeat of the British Ministry on the question of the Irish Church. On the 31st of March, Lord John Russell brought forward a motion that the House go into committee, to consider the propriety of appropriating any church property surplus that may result to the purpose of education in Ireland, without reference to religious distinctions. This motion was warmly opposed by the ministerial party, and the discussion thereon continued until 3 o'clock on the morning of April 3d, when the question was taken and decided as follows :—

For the motion,	322
Against it,	289
Majority against Ministers,	33

The Tory papers complain bitterly of this result.—The Cork Evening Herald says, "we candidly confess our regret at the unfortunate success of Lord John Russell's motion, though we do not foresee exactly all those consequences which appear so plain to others." A London correspondent of the same paper says—"There is a report that the British ship of war Canopus has had a severe engagement with three Russian ships of war which were attempting to force the passage of the Dardanelles."

Action between H. M. S. "Canopus" and three Men of War.

From the London Standard, April 4.

The following extract from a private letter, received this morning from Davenport, has been sent to us by a respectable correspondent, who has given his address. We greatly question its authenticity, but the letter has the appearance of being genuine, and, with the exception of the paragraph below, refers entirely to matters of a private nature :—

"An account has just been received from Falmouth, stating that there had been a very severe engagement between his Majesty's ship Canopus, commanded by the Honorable Captain Percy, and three Russian men-of war, who attempted to pass the Dardanelles, and were most gallantly opposed by the Canopus. It is stated that she was nearly cut to pieces, having had 8 men killed, and a great many wounded during the engagement."

STILL LATER.

By the packet ship Poland, at New York, Paris papers to the 10th, and London to the 7th ultimo, both inclusive have been received.

The packet ship Albany, having on board the late French Minister to the United States, M. Serrurier and family, arrived at Havre on the 9th of April ; and the American frigate Constitution, Com. Elliott, arrived at Havre on the afternoon of the same day. Com. E. landed immediately and travelled post to Paris, to receive the orders of Mr Livingston.

The Indemnity bill had been brought before the Chambers and discussed, but no vote had been taken on it. The general opinion was that it would pass.

England.—On the 7th ult. the British Ministry was left in a minority on the Resolution moved by Lord John Russell for embodying in the Tithe Bill the appropriation principle recognized in the late motion on the Irish Church, the numbers being in favor of the resolution 285, against it 258—majority against Ministers 27. Sir Robert Peel having stated in his speech that he could not consent to retain office if the motion was carried, on Wednesday the resignation of the Ministry was placed in the hands of the King. The event was announced by the Duke of Wellington, on the same evening, in the House of Lords.

The political circles in London give the following list of the new Cabinet :—

First Lord of the Treasury, Viscount Melbourne.
Foreign Secretary, Lord John Russell.
Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr Spring Rice.
Home Department, Lord Duncannon.
Colonial Secretary, Mr Ellice.
Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, Lord Mulgrave.
Secretary, Sir John Cam Hobhouse.
Board of Trade, Mr Warburton.
Lord Chancellor, Mr. Bickersteth.
Woods and Forests, Mr Littleton.

Portugal.—Death of Prince Augustus.—The intelligence from Lisbon is melancholy and important.—The young Queen's husband, Prince Augustus de Leuchtenburg, died suddenly at 2 P. M. on the 28th of March, as it is said, of quinsy ; but the correspondent of one of the London papers intimates that strong suspicions of poison were entertained. The Duke of Terceira was immediately appointed commander-in-chief of the army, that post having become vacant by the death of the Prince. The appointment seems to be judicious and popular.

Spain.—We regret to learn that the war in Spain is assuming a more brutal and ferocious character. A letter from Bayonne of the 4th of April gives the substance of a general order issued by Mina on the 30th of March, in which the inhabitants of Navarre are warned that unless within eight days the young men who have taken up arms in favor of Don Carlos return to their homes, their fathers, as well as the authorities of the places in which they live, shall be arrested and one out of five shot, and their houses burned to the ground.

Correspondence of the Journal of Commerce.

Havre, Apr. 9.—Yesterday sales cotton reported on 'Change were 2500 bales, but towards evening accounts were received from N. York to the 12th ult. via Liverpool, which occasioned still more animation, and 4000 bales were sold to the trade and to speculators. We think our prices 5c higher than they were ten days ago. Such is the prosperity of the manufacturing interests, both on the continent and in England, that prices must continue to rule very high.

Another letter April 10th.

On the 7th and 8th there was an uncommonly brisk demand for Cotton, and about 6000 bales were sold at very full prices ; indeed prices are every day gradually, although almost imperceptibly advancing. The sales yesterday amounted to about one thousand bales. The quiet which is announced at Liverpool will have a tendency to produce the same state of things here. A small lot of whalebone was sold yesterday at $2.8.

Havre Market, April 7.—Ashes, no sales. 15 chests Cassia at 9 c ½ kko—Coffee languid—Cotton has continued active through the week, with an advance of 1 a 3 continues per ½ ko in U. S. short staple, the sales are 4895 bales Louisiana, at 132 a 160—7186 Upland Mobile, at 132 a 160f, import 5630 bales.—Hops declining, a few sales at 105 a 110. Indigo, a decline of 25 a 50 continues in Bengal. Rice continues in limited demand, sales at 2450 a 2810. 25 bales Mexican Sarsaparilla slightly damaged, sold by auction at 1195 a 1199. Tea has again become inactive. Whalebone quite neglected.

Exchange—London 1 mo 25f45—Spanish Dollars 5f13—Mexican do 5f30—American half eagles 27f50.

We are requested to state, in behalf of the mason referred to in Mr Turner's remarks on Monday evening, at Julien Hall, that he is entirely clear of the imputations alleged therein, and that no notice will be taken of the matter in future. "Let envy alone and it will punish itself."

Compliment to Mr Kendall.—The Clerks in the Fourth Auditor's Office addressed a very complimentary letter to Mr Kendall upon the occasion of his leaving that office.

Speculators are at it.—Flour rose at the rate of a shilling an hour in New York on Tuesday.

Rhode Island.—The Legislature of this State convened at Newport, on Wednesday. Henry Y. Cranston (Whig) was elected Speaker of the House, by 3 majority—Cranston 37, Sprague 34, (1 Administration member absent, who, however, arrived during the day.) A committee of ten (five from each party) was then appointed to count the votes for Governor, Lt. Governor, and Senators. From 50 to 60 memorials and remonstrances on the subject of illegal votes were presented, and referred to the above committee, who were expected to report to the House this day. The votes for Senators were not to be counted until all preliminary questions were disposed of.

The Causes of the present Prosperity of New England.—It is not every one who looks with pride upon the increasing wealth, enterprise and resources of New England, who attributes her present prosperity to its true source—and there are many who are content to know that she is thus prosperous, without caring to investigate the cause. The latter spirit is more reprehensible than the former—for while the one looks for light and finds it not, the other is content to sit in darkness, without an effort. We think we are safe in saying that the science of political economy should receive as much attention in prosperity as in adversity, and in both cases is entitled to more consideration than it generally receives.

In our opinion, the payment of the National Debt, and the promotion of temperate habits among the people, are the two causes which lie at the foundation of New England prosperity : the first operating through a reduction of the duty on imports, and the second by the money it saves, the mental and bodily energies it preserves, and the general spirit of enterprise it fosters. It is to this spirit we owe our railroads, those great avenues of business and wealth, which bring the products of the country to a ready market, and thereby secure an adequate remuneration to the producer, as well as valuable facilities to the consumer.

In the faces of the population of New England, the stranger may read evidences of "industry, frugality and virtue," and witness in their present condition the fruits of wise councils, and judicious measures.

A new way of speculating in Stocks.—Notice was recently given in the Philadelphia papers, that on the 27th ult. books would be opened at the Exchange for receiving subscriptions for stock on the Pennsylvania and Ohio Canal Company. A very large company of capitalists assembled at the Exchange a long time in advance of the hour, and each seemed so eager to be first at the Commissioners table that common civility was a stranger in the crowd. Those in front were crowded against the doors with great force, but they bore it very patiently, and consoled themselves with the reflection that they were about to realize golden hopes. At the appointed hour the doors were opened, and the table gained and surrounded in an instant—but no books nor commissioners were seen. A "gentleman in black" very politely announced that the stock was all taken, and so it proved upon investigation—the commissioners having met in good season, and devided the 6000 shares among themselves, to save their very dear friends the trouble of quarreling about it. The stock immediately advanced 100 per cent—the commissioners made a handsome speculation—and their brother capitalists retired in disgust. The company were licked as clean as Crockett's plate.

Polite Conversation.—Miss Anna.—How provoking it is that genteel people cannot adopt any new fashion without being immediately aped by all the Abigails in Christendom. Let a lady but appear at Church with a new fashionable dress, just from London or Paris, and what must she behold, on the next Sabbath, but an ungenteel creature with a dress in exact imitation of her own, stuck up before her eyes like her own image in a looking-glass.

Miss Betty.—I can sympathize with you—It is indeed the most provoking thing in the world to be aped by all these foolish creatures. Is there no remedy for this shocking evil ?

Miss A.—I know of no better remedy than to change our fashions so often that their poverty will not allow them to keep pace with us. But then you know there is always a tribe to adopt the present fashion who neglected the last. We can never prevent the whole race from imitating us.

Miss B.—Good Lord deliver us from such a tribe ! How I do hate these democratic governments ! What right have these plebeian creatures to imitate our dresses any more than to counterfeit bank-notes ? I wish they could all be indicted as counterfeiters.

Miss A.—I agree with you—I despise this republican equality. How delightful it would be if the public were divided into orders ; and the plebeians confined by law to their own proper fashions.

Miss B.—I should be delighted with such a state of society. But it is impossible ; these plebeian creatures have got themselves so mixed up with their betters, that there would be no deciding where to draw the lines of division. How many of these nobodies have married into genteel families and climbed to the top of the ladder of fashion !

POLICE COURT.

"The joys of marriage are the heaven on earth,
Life's Paradise, great Princess, the soul's quiet,
Sinews of concord, earthly immortality,
Eternity of pleasures."

So discourseth the poet, and rightly so discourseth, peradventure ; but as the truth of all general rules is best proven by exceptions, we essay a slight one merely to do honor, though haply very indirectly, to the revered and time-honored estate of "wedded love."

On Wednesday night, as Watchman Baxter was passing his weary rounds through Lynn street, his attention was arrested by the outcries of a woman, who rushed into the street, as if flying for her life, and calling out for a watchman to come to her assistance, as she was afraid her husband would kill her, and that he was at that moment engaged in smashing up all the furniture of the house. Like a true Charley, ever prompt to protect the unfortunate fair, Baxter repaired to the house, where he found that the unhappy woman had not in the least exaggerated the state of the domestic destruction in progress. Tables, chairs, bureau, and looking-glasses, were broken into fragments, which were carefully piled up, in front of the fire-place, and the husband standing before it, in the pride of his might, and exulting in his soul at the evidences of the general wreck he had accomplished. Being asked what was to be the next demonstration of his organ of "destructiveness," he replied that he was going to set fire to the heap—probably as a funeral pile over his departed domestic delights. As a proof of the sincerity of this threat, and to assure Baxter that there was no sham about him, he seized a valuable time-piece, that had previously escaped his vengeance, and, throwing it on the floor, stamped his heel upon the face of it, and sent the wheels a scampering over the floor, like so many mice, suddenly set free from a mouse-trap. As, in appearance, this destroying angel was a circumstance ahead of the Charley, in muscular might, the latter thought it advisable to call in the assistance of his comrade Barrett ; but, before they returned, the match had been applied to the wreck, and the bonfire loomed up splendidly, but greatly to the danger of the safety of the house. Having finished his self-appointed "stint," he yielded to the two watchmen readily, but requested to see his wife before he was taken to jail. The request was too reasonable to be denied ; but she was no sooner brought into the room, than he flew at her, and, clutching his fingers in her long, loose hair, flowing over her back, he whirled her round the room, like the rotary regulator of a steam-engine. Such was the tenacity of his grasp, that four men had to employ all their power to disengage his hands from her hair.

But, notwithstanding this desperate outrage, the heart of his wife, when she found that he was completely "in the narrows," began to relent towards him, and with the characteristic forgivingness and fidelity of her tender sex, declared that she should surely die if they separated him from her ; and her subsequent conduct proved that there was no affectation in her declaration. Long before the trial commenced, was she seen hovering round the jail office, sprinkling the pavements with her tears, and splitting the ears of the officers with her sighs ; and when she was compelled to take the stand, as a witness, to explain the origin of the assault on her, she would only reply—"I cannot tell what happened—I was half crazy last night—I was foolish myself—I've got a very high temper, and when it is up, I do and say things, that I am very sorry for five minutes after."

While the other witnesses were recounting to the Court, her husband's attack upon her, she continually interrupted them by exclaiming—"He did not hurt me"—"He did not hurt me"—"I don't know, whose business it is, if I don't complain !" each exclamation being followed by a regular succession of sobs, and a fresh and free discharge of tears, speedily soaked up by a spasmodic application of her white handkerchief, which was thoroughly saturated with the sorrowful brine.

As all the witnesses, apart from the fracas for which he was arrested, had a good word to say for him ; and as he had severely punished himself by the entire demolition of over $50 worth of his furniture, he was only fined $1.00, and the costs, amounting altogether to $4.90 cents, four dollars towards which his wife drew from a pill-box in her hand, and borrowed enough to square the balance, after which both left the Court, and walked up the street very lovingly together.

His last offence was throwing a page of the Courier out of the window upon the pavement, instead of putting it on the press.

Deserters and the British Consul.—In our paper of Monday, we mentioned as the public will remember, the case of the arrest of four seamen from on board the British brig of war Scylla, while lying in our harbor—and of their discharge from custody by Justice Wyman, and of agreement between the counsel for the seamen, Mr N. B. Blunt, and the British counsel, Mr Buchanan at the instance of the latter, to appear on Monday at 12 o'clock, and argue the question of the right there existed, to arrest and detain sailors for desertion from a British man-of-war. On Monday, at the appointed hour, the sailors, headed by their boarding-house keeper, and accompanied by a number of their sea-faring acquaintances, appeared in the police court, where Mr Blunt, their counsel, also appeared, "ready cut and dried," to enter upon the argument ; but no British Consul deigned to appear in person, or by counsel, to prosecute the inquiry into the right he had assumed, and the wrong he had attempted to inflict ; and in consequence of this laches on the part of the Consul, the pretence he had assumed as a right to seize and carry these sailors on board a British gun brig, was lost by default, and abandoned.—*N. War in the West.—The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser contains the following :

Important.—A gentleman in this city has just received a letter from Cleveland, stating that Gen. Bell of Sandusky, had called out a force of 500 men to march for Detroit, to rescue the Ohio commissioners, who had been taken to that city and imprisoned.—"Now comes the tug of war !"

The steamboat Citizen arrived this morning, having towed from Portsmouth the splendid ship Fortitude, of 600 tons, belonging to Mr Cushing. She towed the ship against a head wind and heavy sea, in fine style. She commences her regular trips to-morrow (this) morning, as advertised.—Trans.

For the Boston Morning Post.

Mr Greene—In the year 1826, the Boston Light Infantry visited the city of New York, on an excursion of pleasure and for improvement in military discipline. They were there received, as in other places through which the corps passed, with that generous open-heartedness which characterizes every thing South of Boston Neck. Not only were they cordially welcomed by individuals, by several corps and by citizens, but the City Corporation itself, inspirited by the profuse hospitality which they saw on all sides, sumptuously entertained them, and personally, or rather in their corporate capacity, accompanied them to the public works and buildings, both Municipal and National. The papers of the day will show the gratitude of the Boston Light Infantry for the civilities lavished upon them.

In the year 1831, the Boston "City Guards" made a similar visit, which was extended to Philadelphia, where, as in New York and elsewhere, like attentions were bestowed, and as gratefully acknowledged as in the former instance.

This, then, was the commencement of a social good fellowship between the military of the South and the North, at which every sound and honest-hearted American should rejoice, and which none but such men as the slim-soul'd editor of the Commercial Advertiser will attempt to destroy.

At various periods since the year above named, several companies of the soldiery, both of New York and Philadelphia, have honored Boston with their presence, and delighted our citizens with their perfect discipline and gentlemanly deportment ; and if the City Authorities of Boston did not receive them as became the city of Boston, it was not the fault of the spirited corps above named and some few private individuals, who felt for the honor of their town, and entertained their guests to the best of their ability.

But the truth is, there are certain functionaries and certain noble lords in this city of ours, who would at any time rather see the devil than a soldier,—who hate the smell of gunpowder now as in days of yore, when they would have sacrificed their country for the love of British gold and for kingly titles, if they could obtain them. These men despise the militia and have been laboring hard for a series of years to destroy it root and branch. This opposition to the militia has of late manifested itself in a new quarter. Colonel Stone of the New York Commercial Advertiser, prompted by a similar meanness of soul which actuates the grandees of Boston in this matter, has blown forth a blast of fixed air, which although ostensibly aimed at a Boston Company, means more than meets the eye.

But we would have this thundering Colonel understand that we shall neither trouble him nor any of his kidney to cut a caper or shave a candle for our accommodation. The farther off they get, the better we should like it. We would have the ex-Colonel also to know that the military of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, are brethren. They have seen enough of each other to bind them together in such bonds as may not be sundered with impunity, by these self-pampered drones, who would admire, of all things, to see the day when a musket shall be as novel in the hands of an American citizen, as it was in their own hands in 1775.

We may have occasion to say something more upon this subject ; in the meantime we beg leave to assure the redoubtable Colonel aforesaid, that should he ever please to resume his commission, and march "down east" at the head of a company, or a regiment, he shall meet such a reception as will convince him that Boston soldiers have souls a leetle larger than a peep-shot, and gold as well as "brass." TIGER.

For the Boston Morning Post.

In March last, the Governor and Council appointed Samuel Jones, Esq., of Stockbridge, County Commissioner for Berkshire County.

Commentary.—On the first Monday of May, the PEOPLE of Stockbridge gave the said Jones TWELVE votes for the same office. A. B.

Steam Boat Disaster.—We are informed by a gentleman who arrived in the Dewitt Clinton from Albany this morning, that the Steam Boat Advocate, on her passage from Catskill to Albany, burst her boiler about 4 o'clock P. M. yesterday, while landing her passengers at Coeyman's and that 8 or 10 of the passengers were scalded.

Among the sufferers were Judge Bronck, of Coxsackie, badly scalded ; a boy, named Perry, not expected to recover ; a lady, name not ascertained, said to be dying, and a child of the latter said to be severely injured. The boiler of the Advocate was upon the high pressure principle, and burst at the back end, the fragments of which were blown out of her stern, passing through the upper cabin. Two of the sufferers were taken by the Dewitt Clinton to Hudson, the rest remain where the accident occured. The boat, with the above exceptions, has not sustained much injury.—Jour. Com.

Late and Important from Mexico.—The Sophia arrived at New Orleans from Tampico, April 20th, in six days. A serious insurrection is threatened in Mexico, under Gomez Fariez, who, not long since, had been deprived of the vice-presidency, at the time Gen. Barragan was appointed president pro tem. during the absence of Santa Anna. Fariez has his head quarters at Zacatecas, and with him 5000 men. A general in the south is acting in concert with him. The insurrection, it is believed, will be general, as the plot is deep laid. Troops that were leaving Tampico had been countermanded, and marched into the interior.

The Westfield Herald says that there is a great scarcity of hay in that vicinity. Many are entirely destitute, and have turned their cattle out to shift for themselves; others feed them on a mixture of meal and straw. There is a similar scarcity among the hill towns in this vicinity. In Ashfield, hay is scarcer and dearer than for many years before.—Franklin Mer.

TO CONTRACTORS.
COLLECTOR'S OFFICE, Boston, May 7, 1835.
PROPOSALS will be received at this office until the 20th inst. for building a LIGHT HOUSE and DWELLING HOUSE, at the mouth of Pearl River, Mississippi, of the following materials, dimensions and description:
The Light House to be built of brick, the form round. The foundation to be sunk three feet, or as deep as may be necessary, to make the fabric secure, to be laid in good lime mortar. The height of the tower to be thirty feet from the surface of the ground. The diameter of the base to be eighteen feet, and that of the top nine feet. The thickness of the wall at the base to be three feet, and to be uniformly graduated to twenty inches at the top. The top to be arched, on which is to be laid a deck of soap stone, eleven feet in diameter, four inches thick, the joints filed in with lead, on one side of which is to be a scuttle to enter the lantern; the scuttle door an iron frame covered with copper. The outside wall to be well plastered with Roman cement, and white washed twice over. There are to be three windows in the tower, of twelve lights each, of ten by eight glass, in strong frames, and a door six feet by three, made of double inch boards, cross nailed, with substantial hinges, lock and latch; the door posts, cap, and stool, to be of dressed stone, at least ten inches square—the ground floor to be paved with brick or stone—a sufficient number of circular stairs to lead from the ground floor to within six feet of the lantern, connected by a centre post, guarded by a good hand railing, with good floors on the joist of each story. From the top of the stairs to the entrance of the scuttle, to be an iron ladder with steps two inches square.
On the top of the tower to be an iron lantern of the octagon form, the posts to be one and a half inches square, to run down into the stone work five feet and secured with anchors. The height and diameter of the lantern to be sufficient to admit an iron sash in each octagon, to contain eighteen lights, eleven by nine glass, the lower tier to be filled with copper; the rabbets of the sashes to be three quarters of an inch deep, and glazed with the best double glass from the Boston manufactory. In one of the octagons to be an iron framed door, covered with copper, four feet by two, to shut tight into the rabbets, with two strong turned buttons. The top of the dome, formed by sixteen iron rafters, concentrating in an iron hoop four inches wide and nine inches in diameter, covered with copper, thirty inches to the square foot, which is to come down and rivet on the piece that forms the top of the sash which is to be three inches wide. On the dome, to be a traversing ventilator two and a half feet long and fifteen inches in diameter, on which is to be secured a copper vane, three feet long and twenty inches wide; around the lantern to be an iron railing, the posts of which to be one and a quarter inches square; the upper one to be four feet from the deck. The lantern and wood work of the tower to be painted twice over with white lead, except the dome, which is to be black.
The Light House to have one complete electrical conductor, made of copper, three quarters of an inch in diameter, with a point and rabbets.
A well to be sunk sufficiently deep to procure good water, at a convenient distance from the Light House, to be stoned and furnished with a curb, windlass and an iron chain, with a strong iron hooped bucket. If good water cannot be procured by digging a well, then a cistern must be provided by the contractor, for the purpose of holding water.
The dwelling house to be of brick, thirty four feet by twenty, one story, of eight feet high, divided into two rooms, with an entry between—the stairs to be in the entry, to go into the chambers, which are to be lathed and plastered—a chimney near the middle of the house with a fire-place in each room, iron or stone pieces, cellar under the whole of the house, with sufficient walls of brick laid up in lime mortar. The roof to be rectangular, the boards of which to be jointed and halved, and well secured and covered with good merchantable shingles—three windows in each room of sixteen lights of eight by ten glass each, and one of the same dimensions in each chamber. The doors to be four pannelled, with good hinges and thumb latches to each, and a good lock on the outside door. Closets in each room back of the chimney—all of the floors to be double, and well nailed—the inside walls and ceilings to be lathed and plastered, and all the inside work to be fixed in a plain decent style, and with good seasoned timber. Also, a porch, or kitchen attached to the dwelling house, fourteen by twelve feet in the clear—the walls of stone, eight feet high—the room to be lathed and plastered, with double floors, two windows and one door—a chimney, with a fire-place and sizeable oven, with an iron door—crane, trammels and hooks, in the fire-place in the porch or kitchen—one side of the chimney a sink, with a spout leading through the stone wall. All the wood work inside and out, to be painted with two coats of good paint—gutters to lead round the house, with spouts to carry off the water—an out house of brick, five feet by four, the roof shingled or painted.
The whole to be completed in a workmanlike manner by the first of December next.
Separate proposals will be received for fitting up the said light house, within one month after it shall be built, with ten patent lamps and ten 14 inch reflectors—to have six ounces pure silver in each reflector, tin butts for keeping the oil, and all the necessary apparatus, in the same manner as the light houses "have been fitted up by Mr Winslow Lewis"—the whole to be approved by the superintendent. Payment to be made when the work shall be completed and approved.

NEW ENGLAND CROWN GLASS.—The New England Crown Glass Company have recently erected a new furnace and are manufacturing an excellent article. Their Crown Glass is thick, pure and of excellent color. Its thickness gives it an advantage over all thin glass, which is liable to crack from contraction in cold weather. Its color is superior to any other glass. Its surface not being polished after being blown, retains its enamel, brilliancy and hardness, and is not liable to the objection which applies to Plate Glass, of being easily and permanently bedimmed by dust. Orders sent to the subscriber at Boston, or East Cambridge, or to any of the Company's Selling Agents, will be promptly attended to.

MAN'S GREATEST AND BEST EARTHLY TREASURE—HEALTH PRESERVED—OR LOST, RESTORED.—SEARS'S AMERICAN HYGIENE VEGETABLE RENOVATING PILLS, are now offered, for the benefit of the public, by the Author, under an honest persuasion, that the certificates of their efficacy and effects; and the references and testimony respecting his own reputation and character, will secure for them public confidence. They have been the result of much research and experiment, occasioned by unusual sufferings from Dyspepsia and diseased liver for 30 years. During a considerable part of this period, it has been to me an object of anxious solicitude, to discover some preparation of medicine better calculated to relieve me of my sufferings than any I had heretofore used. And after many experiments in Materia Medica; and, among the vegetables of our country, I have succeeded in preparing a medicine, purely and entirely vegetable, which does in an eminent degree, answer that important and desirable object. Their effect is to excite and sustain a natural peristaltic action in the stomach and intestines, and to produce a discharge from them of all the morbid and bilious matter which they contain; and also to remove biliary obstructions, and promote and sustain the natural secretions of the liver. Hence they are peculiarly efficacious in curing all diseases, originating from a disordered state of the stomach and bowels: such as Indigestion, Costiveness, Bilious Cholic, Nervous and Sick Headache, Hypocondria, Yellow and Black Jaundice, Cholera Morbus, Cutaneous Eruptions, Erysipelas, Heartburn, Sourness of Stomach, and General Debility. Their efficacy has been fairly and abundantly tested by my own experience and that of many others. They may, with perfect safety, be taken by both sexes, of all ages, in cases of indisposition; and they are peculiarly effectual in liver complaints. In offering them to the public, I pledge my reputation and character, that a perfect trial of their effects will satisfy them of their superior excellency. In regard to my reputation and character, I have permission to refer to the Right Rev Bishop Onderdonk and the Rev Dr Spring, of New York; and I would also present the two following certificates from the Hon John W. Taylor, and the Hon Judge S. Young, of Ballston Spa, whose characters are well known to the public:—

"I certify that I have been well acquainted with William Sears, now of the village of Ballston Spa, for more than thirty years. He has through life maintained a fair reputation. His character for truth and general integrity stands high. Indeed I have never heard it impeached. JOHN W. TAYLOR.
Ballston Spa, Oct. 6th, 1834."

"I have known Mr William Sears for more than thirty years, having resided most of that time in the same town with him, and during that period he has sustained a character without reproach. S. YOUNG.
Oct 8, 1834."

Extract from a certificate of Mr James Comstock, editor of the Ballston Spa Gazette—"For several years past Mrs Comstock has been afflicted with an unusually obstinate Dyspepsia, attended with a great degree of acidity of the stomach, and redundancy of bile. For several months past she has taken Sears's A. H. V. Renovating Pills, and has experienced more benefit from them than she has ever received from any medicine. I can with confidence recommend them to the public.
JAS. COMSTOCK."

Extract from a certificate of Mrs Powel, wife of the Hon. Judge Powel, of Saratoga county—"For many years past I have been afflicted with the symptoms of a liver complaint, which have frequently been attended with a pain in my side, so severe as to confine me. About three months since I commenced taking Sears's A. H. V. Renovating Pills, which have greatly relieved me, and rendered unnecessary the use of any other medicine. I do highly esteem them, and recommend them to all who are afflicted as I have been, with a liver complaint. ANN POWEL.

VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM, is the most valuable remedy now in use for coughs, colds, asthma or phthisic, whooping cough and pulmonary affections of every kind. Its sale is steadily increasing and the proprietors are constantly receiving the most favorable account of its effects. The following new certificates are offered for public examination.

From Dr Samuel Morrill to the Proprietors of the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam.

I am satisfied that the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam is a valuable medicine. It has been used in this place with complete success in an obstinate complaint of the lungs, attended with a severe cough, loss of voice, and the raising of much blood, which had previously resisted many approved prescriptions. After using the Balsam one week, the patient's voice returned, and he was enabled to speak audibly. This case occurred some time since, and the man is now engaged not only in active but laborious business.

Respectfully yours &c, SAMUEL MORRILL, M. D.
Concord, N. H. Jan 30, 1832.

From Mr Samuel Everett.

In October 1830, I was attacked with a cough accompanied with a severe pain in the side and difficulty of breathing. I resorted to several remedies but without effect. In January 1831, I was attended by a skilful physician, and subsequently received the advice of several others—but the disease steadily increased; the cough was incessant, attended with a bloody and offensive expectoration; my flesh was wasted, my feet swollen and my strength extremely reduced. In April my case seemed utterly hopeless—I was told by my physicians that medicine could be of no further service to me, and it was not expected by any of my friends that I could survive a month. In this situation my daughter procured a bottle of the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam, (which she had heard highly recommended for similar complaints,) and prevailed on me to make trial of it. Its use was attended with the most unexpected and happy result. It gave me immediate relief and one bottle effected a cure. I have since been free from pain in the side and cough, except in the case of common colds.
Boston, March 1, 1832. SAMUEL EVERETT.

☞ Particular Caution. Each genuine bottle is enclosed in a blue wrapper, on which is a yellow label signed SAMPSON REED.  None other can be genuine. The great celebrity of the genuine V. P. Balsam has been the cause of attempts to introduce spurious articles, which by partially assuming the name of the genuine, are calculated to mislead the public. Among these spurious mixtures are the 'American Pulmonary Balsam' 'Vegetable Pulmonary Balsamic Syrup,' &c. †‡† Purchasers should inquire for the true article by its whole name, and see that it has the marks and signature of the genuine.

Operations on the Teeth.

DR. I. H. APPLETON respectfully informs his friends and the public generally, that he continues at No. 11 Winter-street, Boston, where he is prepared to perform all the operations of DENTAL SURGERY; viz. removing tartar and discolorations from the teeth, restoring diseased and spongy gums to a healthy state, cleansing and removing caries from decayed teeth, and filling them with gold, so as to render them as useful as before, and no more liable to decay than those that are perfectly sound.

He also attends to the making and inserting of all kinds of Artificial Teeth.

☞ PORCELAIN, or INCORRUPTIBLE TEETH inserted on gold plates, from one to a full set, in the most approved manner.

☞ The regulating of children's teeth, will receive his special attention.

Having for more than fifteen years devoted himself to the profession, he confidently believes he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who may favor him with their patronage.

He begs leave to inform the public that he has availed himself of the services of a skilful and scientific gentleman from Philadelphia, to assist him in his operations.

Dr. A. has prepared and used, for more than fifteen years, the COLUMBIAN LOTION, which has been proved by hundreds of individuals, and is highly recommended by eminent Physicians of this city, to be an effectual remedy for counteracting the pernicious effects of calomel, unpleasantness of breath, spongy or inflamed gums, and other diseases of the mouth.

He prepares also the COLUMBIAN TOOTH POWDER, for diseased teeth and gums, and the PEARL DENTIFRICE, for purifying the breath and whitening the teeth, and constantly keeps on hand an assortment of Tooth and Sponge Brushes of his own selecting.

A. JONES'S VEGETABLE HAIR OIL, for Restoring Hair on Bald Heads, strengthening and fortifying the Roots against the causes which operate so powerfully in their decay and destruction.

This VEGETABLE OIL possesses very peculiar nourishing properties, which are imparted to the roots of the hair with a very few applications.

It causes the hair to grow on heads that have been entirely bald for years, with astonishing rapidity.

This important discovery, from the Vegetable Kingdom, prevents the hair from falling off with five or six applications—keeps it lively and healthy—frees it from scurf and dondroff—prevents it from turning grey, and when it begins to turn, will restore it to its original beauty and lustre by continuing the use of the Oil.

The fragrance of this Oil is without exception and ladies and gentlemen of the first respectability have used it and approved of it, and prefer it to any other for perfuming, curling and keeping the hair moist and glossy.

The growth of hair on children is much facilitated by the use of this Oil.

It is decidedly superior to any other article in the United States, and the proprietor has put it up in bottles containing a sufficiency to produce an effect of restoring hair on any head, or of satisfying any person of its salutary effects.

This Oil will cause Whiskers to grow in a very short time. It is universally approved of wherever it has been used, and will stand upon its own merits unrivalled.

The Proprietor has numerous testimonials, from Gentlemen and Physicians of high respetability, on the bill around each bottle, with particular directions for using it—also the proprietor's name in his own hand writing.

DYSPEPSIA CURABLE BY GALVANIC ELECTRICITY.—DYSPEPSIA—accompanied by constipation, vertigo, painful sensations in the head and eyes, flatulence, or wind, unnatural distension of the abdomen or stomach, attended with hardness, some of the affections of the liver and spine—and in some cases difficulty in breathing, falling of the womb, diseases of the vagina and hœmmorhoids or piles—has been removed, together with these consequent or concomitant affections, solely by the aid of appropriate apparatus, recently constructed by the undersigned for the excitation of Galvanic Electricity in the system.

Instruments suitable for this purpose are so small and compact that they may be carried in the pocket; and so mild in their operation, and so simple in their construction, that children can use them as well as adults: and in many cases of disease they may be used simultaneously with other remedies.

The ratio of cure and alleviation of that form of Dyspepsia which is attended with constipation &c, has been from this remedy alone, (medicine by way of the mouth and stomach entirely discontinued,) three to four in every five cases, as far as known to the inventor of the Galvanic Apparatus.

Instruments, with directions for their proper application and other information relative to the beneficial effects derivable from this first of curative means may be obtained of JOSEPH M. SMITH, 138 Washington st.
Agent for DANIEL HARRINGTON, Patentee,
S E. corner of Arch and 6th st. Philadelphia.

The following certificates of cure and relief, are a few of the whole number that have been given, and that might be obtained from sources of the first respectability.

The Galvanic Apparatus, invented by Daniel Harrington, of this city, for the cure of disease, is familiarly known to us. By its aid, under Providence, we have been enabled to exchange annoying disease for comfortable health. Dyspepsia, accompanied by constipation, that in our cases had resisted other remedies for years, soon yielded to this novel mode of cure, and in the course of a few weeks, our expectations were more than realized. Judging from our own experience, we are of opinion that this useful apparatus will be found innocent, where it may not prove more or less efficacious, and that it may be safely intrusted to any hands. With us its application has not been attended with any painful inconvenience at all; nor did we find it necessary to observe, for the time being, any rigid restrictions touching diet. That there are many thousands of suffering invalids in this country, who could as readily exchange disease for health, by this new mode of cure, as we have been enabled to do, we cannot for a moment doubt.
JOHN S. RIDDLE,
ELIAKIM LITTELL,
Philadelphia. JOHN JEMISON.

Being myself afflicted with the inconvenience and disease incident to a confined state of the bowels, I was induced to use Mr Harrington's Galvanic Apparatus, from which I have found the most effectual relief. I therefore cheerfully recommend it to all persons laboring under similar affections.
Philadelphia. WM. T. BRANTLY.

We have been using the Galvanic Instruments, invented by Mr Daniel Harrington of this city, for a disordered condition of the digestive organs of long standing, accompanied by obstinate constipation, a confuse state of the head, and by general debility; and we have experienced that degree of relief that has enabled us to relinquish medicine by way of the mouth, finding the new remedy preferable—and we believe that by its aid we are gradually gaining health and strength, which was not the case previous to our using it. The application has involved neither pain or risk with us.

SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE.—JAUNDICE BITTERS.—Dr Warner's Purifying Bitters or Family Corrective.—In the spring of the year, every one is troubled more or less with a propensity to sleep, and by the use of this corrective it can be obviated entirely. For purifying and eradicating all kinds of humors from the blood, even if they appear externally in the face, or any part of the body; it is much better and far more efficacious than any external application; in fact I seldom knew it to fail in proving effectual. The patient will find it operates more in the blood than any other preparation they ever resorted to; it is far better than salts, sulphur, cream tartar, or any preparation of this kind, for when the blood is once purified with this corrective, it remains in an even temperature through the summer months.—For a foul stomach, jaundice, general debility, weakness of the limbs, want of appetite, bilious and liver complaints, headache, stupor &c &c. For the catarrh, which is generally occasioned by the impure state of the blood, there is nothing extant that has proved so efficacious as this purifying corrective. For all the above complaints it is seldom known to fail of proving an effectual remedy. It is really worth the public attention, as every one is aware of the unpleasant, dull heavy feeling, which the spring of the year produces. And by the use of this corrective, it can be obviated entirely; every one who makes use of the above preparation, will be astonished at the mild and gentle effect it has on the blood. POSITIVE, OR NO PAY.—Mrs. Hill's Cough Drops, or Vegetable Health Restorative.—Prepared entirely from Vegetables.

More than forty years have now elapsed since the receipt was given me by my uncle, a celebrated Physician, at a time that I was troubled with a very bad cough and cold. After taking one dose, I found immediate relief, and a few doses cured me entirely; the effects were astonishing quick, and the numerous instances of the wonderful efficacy of these drops on different people, has induced me to put them up in Phials, with directions, under the impression it would be a public benefit. And as that is my sole aim—and to convince the public that is all, and as a sure guarantee against quackery and deception, I authorise my agents to return the money to all those that do not get relief by their returning the bottle and directions. The relief and absolute cure, particularly of those numerous and complicated disorders arising from neglected colds, is amply attested by the acknowledged approbation of those who are now restored to perfect health, as well as many in the decline of life who frankly acknowledge having received great relief from the use of them in the following diseases, viz—Coughs, colds, asthma, spitting of blood, hooping cough, difficulty of breathing, influenza, quinsea, phthisic, croup, and all disorders arising from colds. Price 37½ cents per bottle.

PURE BEAR'S OIL may be had by the groce, dozen or single bottle, of A. BOYDEN, Hancock-st.

As in all cases, so especially in this, Venders, if they wish to secure the patronage of the public, should be extremely cautious not to sell an article for the Hair which tends to counteract rather than assist nature.

The virtues of Bear's Oil have been too long tested to need any eulogium; and at this time no one can doubt of its being the very best article for strengthening and promoting the growth of the Hair. An honest prejudice against the use of Bear's Oil has long existed, arising from two causes—the improper method of purifying it, and the imposition upon the public of a spurious article. That this prejudice may be wholly removed, this article now offered is warranted the pure Oil, rendered more pleasant by the addition of a little perfume—and the possibility of its injuring the Hair is entirely precluded by the manner in which it has been purified. To prevent fraud, the genuine is enclosed in two wrappers, the inside one being signed Arnold Boyden.

DR. CERLIEU'S CELEBRATED OINTMENT.—A sovereign remedy for the Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Leprosy and all other Cutaneous complaints. These dreaded diseases, which are met with so much reluctance by the physician and in which he is so universally unsuccessful, have at length found a certain remedy in Dr Cerlieu's Ointment. This article has stood the test of experience and justly gained unexampled celebrity. It has in three or four weeks cured cases of more than thirty years standing, which baffled the art of the most experienced physicians and resisted the power of every other remedy that could be devised. It immediately removes the scab of the skin, and restores its original color and smoothness.
